

Lia Yin

September 2021

Department of Economics
Boston College
Maloney Hall
Chestnut Hill, MA 02467

✉ yinlb@bc.edu
☎ +1-865-221-6178
🌐 lia-yin.com

Research Fields

Primary Applied Microeconomics
Secondary Economics of Crime

Education

2015 - 2022 Boston College
(expected) Ph.D. in Econometrics
2013 - 2015 University of Tennessee - Knoxville
 M.A. in Economics
2005 - 2009 Harvard University
 B.A. in Economics

Working Papers

Self-Defense Regulations and Crime - Evidence from the Stand Your Ground Law with Abby Hong

Work in Progress

The Distinct Roles of Poverty and Wealth in Driving Crime with Benjamin Ferri

Crime Reporting

Teaching Experience

Instructor

2019 Statistics (Boston College, Undergraduate)

Teaching Assistant

2019 Econometrics (Boston College, Undergraduate)
2016-2020 Statistics (Boston College, Undergraduate)
2015 Microeconomic Theory (Boston College, Undergraduate)
2014 Macroeconomics (University of Tennessee, Graduate) 2013 Intro to Economics (University of Tennessee, Undergraduate)

Professional Experience

Research Associate, Harvard Business School

2021	Impact of AI Deployment on Sales
2020	Impact of Career Connections on Trading Volume and Trading Rate
2019	Impact of Supply Chain Relationships on Corporate Social Responsibility

Conferences

2021	Western Economic Association International (WEAI) Virtual International Conference
------	--

Skills

- Tools: Stata, R, Python, SQL, Matlab, SAS, EViews, Git, Tableau, C++, \LaTeX
- Knowledge: Difference-in-difference Techniques, Logistics Regressions, Time Series Forecasting, Causal Random Forest Prediction, Hypothesis Testing, Monte Carlo Simulation

Languages

Chinese (native), English (fluent)

References

Prof. Arthur Lewbel
Boston College
☎+1 617-552-3678
✉lewbel@bc.edu

Prof. Zhijie Xiao
Boston College
☎+1 617-552-1709
✉zhijie.xiao@bc.edu

Prof. Hanno Foerster
Boston College
☎+1 617-552-6042
✉hanno.foerster@bc.edu